

Seaman On Burma Tour

Crama H. Gray, jr., seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Crama H. Gray, of 1018 West 210th St., Torrance, has returned to the Far East aboard his ship, the Pacific Fleet destroyer USS John R. Craig, after spending four days on a recent goodwill tour to Rangoon, Burma.

While in Burma's capital, the destroyers were hosts to 100 Burmese orphans and their school instructors at a party on board. During general open house periods aboard the vessel, a steady flow of nearly 10,000 Burmans poured up the gang plank to tour the ships.

DREAM MANFULLY and nobly, and thy dreams shall be prophets.—Bulwer.

Saxon . . . High . . . Lights

By BONNIE WILLIAMS FR. 2-4623

"N-Review," North High's first Variety Show hosted an almost capacity crowd last Saturday night at the Torrance high school auditorium. The show was centered around many of the well-known tee-vee programs. Among the acts presented, were skits, songs by well-known Saxons, dances, instrumental, a tumbling act, and a very cute monologue.

The skit, "Mr. Oglethorpe Dilemma," starring Bob Halliwell went over the biggest with the audience. It was a story of a teacher at North High and all of his little (?) problems. The monologue by Judy Buffenbarger, called "What It Was, Was Football," kept the audience in stitches, especially the footballers present. "Dungaree Doll," done by Eddie Schneider, and "He," done by Jim Powers, brought shrill screams from many of the girls in the audience.

All in all, this show turned out to be the best that North High will ever see. Credit must also be given to the faculty members who did so much work on this program and who had a lot to do with the success of the program. Special praise goes to Mrs. Warren for her stage direction and drama class, Mr. Bereskin for the skits he wrote, Mr. Smith for his very humorous commercials, and Mr. Baum and his dance band for their fine music.

Clubs
The art club has appropriately named their club the "Brush Bruisers." They seem to be becoming a very active club on campus. The freshmen girls are also organizing a club and are in the process of making their constitution and having it approved. Many of the clubs have held elections recently, and I would appreciate hearing from the presidents of these clubs so I can print the names of your new officers.

Snoopin' Around
Pat Webb gave a party last Thursday night at her home. Those attending were: Gayle Carothers, Patti Buchholz, Carol and Arlene Lesar, Paul Carrico, Loren Jones, Jim Thomas, Marcia Bradley, Ron McCracken, Tom Arizonian, Bill Hundley, Aaron Ritter, and Tom Nakawatase. A swimming party was given by Terry Baker, after the Variety show, at his home for a few members of the cast.

Accountants View Growth In Industry

The Long Beach chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants held its monthly dinner meeting yesterday, at the Lafayette Hotel, Long Beach. The meeting was presided over by Fred W. Mill, chapter president and division controller and assistant secretary of the National Supply company, Torrance.

"A Dynamic Growth Industry Dictates Progressive Accounting" was the topic of the principal speaker of the evening, Charles J. J. Cox, controller and assistant treasurer of Western Airlines, incorporated. An outstanding authority in commercial airline finance and accounting, Cox was graduated from St. Joseph's Commercial college, Rochester, New York, and for 13 years served with West, Flint & Co., CPA's, New York City.

As a Lieutenant Commander during World War II, he served as financial administrator of aircraft and heavy procurement contracts with the United States Navy Bureau of Supplies and Accounts. After the war he was manager of the Los Angeles office of Peat, Marwick, York, Mitchell & company, and in May 1951 joined Western Airlines in his present capacity.

Cox is an active member of Controllers Institute of America, American Institute of Accountants, National Association of Cost accountants, Institute of Internal-Auditors, and the CPA Societies of California and New York.
